

Who employs workers like me? What firms are in my industry? Check the Dept of Labor's Business Directory

URL changes with every DOL update, but you can go to DOL's homepage and use their search utility to find potential.

Use the Business Directory to find potential employers:

<http://labor.ny.gov/stats/bdirector.shtm>

This is a database of the info employers send to Albany about their workers (as when sending in withholding and benefit cash, or Workers' Comp data, or Unemployment Insurance data). You can search by industry or by occupation.

You can select multiple counties. Warning: don't hold down the Ctrl key until you've selected something other than Albany, or that county will be included in your results by default.

Most common use is to find businesses that hire people with your skills. Contact info is usually outdated, but there are plenty of other ways to get that info.